DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 14-16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 12.

2. Applicant's election with traverse of Species of Figure 1 in Paper No. 12 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the embodiments are minor permutations of the same invention and are alternative configurations and alternate embodiments of the device. This is not found persuasive because the traversal is not a proper response to the type of election of species made in the application. The election of species was based on the application containing claims directed to patentably distinct species of the claimed invention. The species identified in the previous office action are patentably distinct as is evident by the four different embodiments shown in the drawings and as defined in the claims. Applicant's traversal can only be on the grounds that the species are not patentably distinct. Since Applicant, in the traversal, does not state why the species are not patentably distinct and has not submitted evidence showing the species to be obvious variants, the requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-13 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Coffee et al. (6,595,208).

Coffee et al. shows a dispensing device having a reservoir 30, voltage source 20, comminution site 41, discharge electrode arrangement 50, control circuit 21 and a resistor as shown in figure 14.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kelly, Noakes et al., Perkins et al., Haas, Hengartner et al. Haas, Jr. and Bentley et al. all show devices in the general state of the art of the invention.
